Yes, Much Alike
The Rats, Their Battles
Pump Versus Sponge
No House Seizing

Mr. Cot discovers, the New York Times applauds the discovery, that Article X, is like the Monroe Doctrine.
Of course, it is like the Monroe Doctrine. That is why America doesn't want it.
Under the Monroe Doctrine, if any country attempts to seize territory on this continent it becomes the duty of the United States to fight. And for that doctrine we want to fight.
Under Article X, if the Alaskan of Great Britain tried to seize a piece of the territory of Armenia or Mesopotamia, or if anybody anywhere in the world tried to take anything from the British Empire, we should have to fight, and that is what this country DOESN'T intend to do.
To the Monroe Doctrine, compelling us to protect boundaries on this continent, we say YES.
To Article X, of the League of Nations, telling us to police the whole world, fighting and financing the wars of Europe, we say NO.

Rats on the steamship Leviathan attacked, killed and ate or drove out the cats. Behold, in miniature, what sometimes happens in revolution among human beings.
The huge steamer Leviathan, plazed with rats, could not be cleared by the usual use of hydrocyanic acid gas.
It was decided to let the rats starve to death. All food was removed. Cats were put in to make the food embargo more terrible. The rats ate the cats.
Then they ate the leather cushions.

Now the weaker rats are beginning to die, the survivors eating them.
Is a little while the strongest survivors will kill and eat each other until at last only one savage rat, full of rat meat, will be left. Then man will walk in, accompanied, perhaps, by a rat terrier, representing the police force, and "stable government" will be restored. It takes more than merely discomfited men to make a nation, and the worst thing that can happen to a lot of rats is to be left to themselves. Rats need men; men need government.

President Marshall describes reformers well when he says that they loathe their allies until they find that corruption exists, complain for a moment, then go back to loathing their allies.
They don't remember that Mr. Boss is on the job twenty-four hours a day, three hundred and thirty-six days a year.
The trouble with Americans is that not one in a hundred takes any persistent, consistent interest in government or in the things being done. When they do wake up for a moment it is usually too late.

Edward Roche Hardy, Jr., college man. He is at Columbia University, knows quite well twelve languages, has studied Assyrian and Babylonian tablets and weights one hundred and forty-three pounds.
The chances are a million to one that in life's real struggle he will be passed by a hundred boys his age that do not know much about any language, not even English, and that would only use a Babylonian tablet to throw at a cat.

Young Hardy is interesting, showing, as John Stuart Mill did before him, the extraordinary possibilities of development in the human brain.
However, it isn't how much you know that counts, but how much you can do with what you know. It isn't how many languages you know, or a small pump is more important than the biggest sump.

Socialist Aldermen in New York suggest selling five houses on Fifth avenue, temporary houses for the poor, to relieve the housing shortage. That isn't the way to solve a housing problem. A few years ago in all New York there were not a hundred bath tubs with running water. It wouldn't have done any good for the inhabitants to seize the title to all try to bathe in them at once. The right way was to build more bath tubs and let everybody have one.

The thing that'll build more houses and free permanently from taxation moderate priced houses in which men raise their families, as you free from taxation orphan asylums and churches.
Senator Harding asks, and the Harriman National Bank, charged in a well-written advertisement, why England and the rest of Europe do not arrange to pay the tax on borrowed money from us and let us cut down taxes here.

SENATOR REED BOLTS COX

Expresses Fear Governor's Election Means Continuance of Wilson's Influence

By Editorial Service.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 22.—United States Senator James A. Reed has literally blown the Democratic lid off Missouri. In unmistakable language the Democratic Senator bolted Governor Cox. He expressed the fear that Cox's election would mean the continuance of President Wilson's influence in Washington.

Senator Reed daily repudiated McKendrick Long, the President's justice candidate for United States Senator, declaring that the election of a Senator that would grant the nation against entangling alliances was more important even than the election of a President.

AGAINST BLOOD MORTGAGE.
He tore into President Wilson's assumption of "kingly prerogative" in the "League of Nations" and finally, after two hours of speaking, shouted:

"I do not know what you will do. But as for me and my house, we will never surrender the rights of America. We will never mortgage the blood of American sons. We will never pull down the American flag."

In his specific reference to Governor Cox the Senator said:
"The Democratic candidate for President in for the present League of Nations with reservations, but I know what they are. If he is elected, I fear the influence of Woodrow Wilson."

HINDS OWN HALL.
Senator Reed was credited today with having staged one of the greatest political demonstrations in the history of Kansas City. It was held in Convention Hall, which he hired himself. The only decorations were a pitcher of water and an empty glass. There was no presiding officer. He simply walked out on the stage and said to the audience:

"Here I am."

He reviewed his political career at Washington, emphasizing time and again alleged atrocious assumptions of President Wilson which he denounced as un-American.

"I called this meeting myself," he explained. "No political party or candidate is responsible for what I say."

In closing his address Senator Reed viewed his difference with the President, insisting that he was upholding his oath when acting as a free man and a representative of a free people and doing his own thinking.

EXPRESS THEFTS IN LAWRENCE TOTAL $3,300

Lawrence, Oct. 22.—More than $3,000 in goods and merchandise has been stolen from the American Railway Express during the past months in this city, according to a statement made in District Court here by George O'Brien, an official of the company.

The testimony was given in the case of Henry Bonanza of Peabody, N. H., an employee of the local office of the company, charged on four complaints with larceny of goods in transit. For stealing a fur coat he received a sentence to Concord Reformatory.

BODY MAY BE THAT OF BABY COUGHLIN

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 22.—Sensational reports of the finding of a body of a fifteen-month-old infant in a quarry at Swedeland, one mile from the scene of the kidnapping of Stanley Coughlin, and the supposition that it might be the remains of the abducted child were blasted here when Coroner William Neville announced that he was without any justification on the discovery, and George Coughlin, father of the kidnapped baby, said he had not heard of the new phase.

FISHERMEN BANK ON ESPERANTO

Every Man in Gloucester Looks for Home Entry to Win Race Off Halifax

Gloucester, Oct. 22.—There's a slight "boiling" of the blood and the men are getting down and over with plenty of upward work to do and are still bringing home the cup.

This was the comment of "Dick" Moore, hailed in Gloucester as the king of "skippers," after looking over the schooner Restoration, which is to compete in the international race for the championship of the North Atlantic fishing fleet off the Nova Scotia coast a week from tomorrow.

And it voices the opinion of every man who has sailed out of Gloucester for the fishing banks as to the merits of the home entry in the great contest.

INTEREST IN EVENT GROWS.

If Capt. "Buster" Welch and the Restoration do not bring home the $5000 prize and the silver cup to be awarded the winner of the race off the water front will be much surprised.

Interest in the event grows as the date for the first race draws near and it is the chief topic of discussion in every home on the street corners and in the lotus along the wharves.

A Gloucester man, Arthur L. Millott, has been appointed by Governor Coolidge to be the Massachusetts commissioner for the event, and he will represent the state at the race.

The local lodge of Elks has presented the Restoration with an American flag and it will fly at the masthead throughout the race.

Through the efforts of Mr. Smith of the Gloucester Fish Company and prominent citizens the government will be asked to assign a revenue cutter in carry the race committee, newspaper men and other officials to Halifax.

RIGGERS BENT ON GOAT.

Riggers are busy getting the sails and new ropes of the contestant in readiness, her spars have been scraped and varnished and every inch of her hull has been scraped and newly painted.

The Restoration has a hoist of 50 feet of sail against the Isolawanna's 42 feet and fishermen are proud of this as an advantage for the Gloucester boat.

"It is my hope that they race in a gale," said Charley Veno, veteran rigger. "The Restoration will just walk home. In a breeze she'll move, but perhaps not as fast as the Nova Scotia boat."

ACCUSE HARDING OF 14 'WOBBLES'

Cox Declares His Opponent an 'Impositor' Unless He Clears Stand on League

By Universal Service.

Baltimore, Oct. 22.—Cox claimed the reward offered by Senator Harding to any one who would show he had been inconsistent in his attitude toward the League of Nations and declared the Republican nominee an "impositor" unless he cleared his actual position on the league issue.

"Senator Harding complains bitterly," he said, "that he has been misinterpreted, but the newspapers have misinterpreted him; said the league is a trap for the people of America." "He offers a reward to any one who will show that he changed his attitude on the League of Nations."

CLAIMS THE REWARD.

"Now I am here to show how he has attempted to 'waggle and wobble' his way into the presidency, and to claim that reward, not for myself, but for the people of America."

In the "proof" offered in support of his claim for the reward, the Democratic candidate contended that the senator had been inconsistent in his position "by the ironical assertion that he is entitled to one more in order to make it fourteen. Now, the only trouble with the senator is that his reticence is at fault. He has already had fourteen chances so far as it is my knowledge, but I have not yet had opportunity to read the evening papers."

Governor Cox then enumerated the fourteen alleged "wobbles" by his opponent, which, he said, he knew.

THE FOURTEEN 'WOBBLES.'

1—First he voted for the mild reservations.

2—Then he voted for the Lodge reservations.

3—Then he said that if he had to do it over, he would not vote even for the Lodge reservations.

4—Then he voted for the Knox reservation providing for a separate peace with Germany.

5—Then he accepted the nomination on the platform which said the league had "signally failed."

6—Then he endorsed the re-election of The Hague tribunal.

7—Then he showed its failure as expressed by Theodore Roosevelt, because it had no power behind it, and in which the four greatest wars in history took place.

8—Then he rejected The Hague tribunal.

OPTIMIST NEW PLAN.

9—Then he offered a new plan in the International Court of Justice.

which he learned Ellis Root was 9—Then he rejected the International court of justice when he discovered that everyone had known but him, that it was the supreme court of the League of Nations.

10—In his speech of September 6, he said "Amendment or revision or continuation of the league covenant is still among the possibilities."

11—In the same speech he said, "The league has now passed beyond all possibility of restoration."

12—At Des Moines, he said, "Cox never gave into the league; I never changed my mind; I am interested in restoration."

13—Returning to Marion from Des Moines, he said, "I don't understand why it is that the people of the United States don't understand what I want to do to take to mean what he said, and."

14—Announced the formation of a new Association of Nations.

Which on the same day, June 28, had pronounced impossible and impracticable.

Senator Harding was heard to several parts of the audience in the Queen Theatre in Wilmington, when

He said, "I am interested in restoration."

Governor Cox attacked the Republican nominee as one of the authors of the senatorial "round robin."

The blame for Senator Harding, however, were not as loud as those for Senator Lodge, who also was heard.

The Governor attacked his opponent as the Massachusetts Senator, calling him the "base" and "conscienceless" in all the humanity of the world.

WILSON PICKS 5 FOR SHIP BOARD

James Merchant Marine Act
Appointments Ready; Senate May Reject Them

Washington, Oct. 22.—Five of the seven members of the Shipping Board provided in the Jones Merchant Marine act have been decided upon by the President, it was learned here. Admiral William S. Benson, present chairman of the board, it is understood, heads the list. Theodore Marburg, a banker of Baltimore who was minister to Belgium under President Taft and was removed by President Wilson, comes next. He is a Republican but recently assumed himself as being in favor of the League of Nations. He refused to discuss his appointment tonight. Others reported named are Edwin Meah of San Francisco, Frederick Thompson of Mobile and Martin Gillen of Chicago. A long list of prospective candidates is being considered for the remaining two places, among the most prominent being Joshua W. Alexander, Secretary of Commerce, and former chairman of the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries. It is not believed that any of the appointments with the exception of Admiral Benson, has the slightest chance of receiving confirmation by the Senate, but the slightest chance of refusal would result in a new appointment. The policy of the Senate during the short session, it is understood here, will be to turn down every appointment made by Mr. Wilson so that the new President may have a "clean deck."

To Tell of Ireland
At a meeting of Irish Officers Branch, Friends of Irish Republic, tonight in Ouseway Church, Boston, North Cambridge, Miss Julia Walsh and Miss Elizabeth Mahoney will tell of their recent experience in Ireland. Delegates to the State convention will be chosen.

Silk Stockings to Bribe Women

By Universal Service.
New York, Oct. 22.—With women on a new social footing with the ratification of the nineteenth amendment, silk stockings are being used to bribe women workers at the polls.

This is the charge of the Honest Ballot Association of New York. "Liberty of its women workers here was attempted," declares the association, "and to one case succeeded." "On investigation it was found," said Colonel Joseph D. Peary, "that the district captain had given the woman worker a handsome pair of silk stockings to act as an informant."

CLEVELAND YOUTH HELD AS HOTEL THIEF

New London, Ct., Oct. 22.—Frank Thurston of Cleveland, Ohio, was arrested here in connection with recent burglary of guests at a hotel. He was locked up in default of $500 bail and trial was set for Saturday. Thurston, is described by the police as a "dope head."

CLERGYMAN RAIDS TEN ALLEGED "WET" PLACES

Brookfield, Pa., Oct. 22.—Wholesale male very male have on suspected illicit liquor dispensing places. Ten houses were raided by the Rev. William N. Woodfin, prohibition agent for the Homestead district, and a squad of twenty-seven men. Much liquor was seized.

CHINESE GIRL DIES IN PLANE ACCIDENT

Minto Park, Cal., Oct. 22.—Jumping from a falling airplane here, Frances S. Lee, a Chinese girl student, was instantly killed. The pilot, John Courtney, was probably fatally injured when the machine fell to the ground. A defective wing caused the accident.

CAMBRIDGE PASTOR GOING TO BRAintree

Women Plan 'Sandwich' Campaign

"Good people all, do you know what a sandwich man is?" That's the question Mrs. L. R. G. Crandon, wife of the Boston surgeon, is asking with animation these days. For Mrs. Crandon is chairman of the Pro-League Mother Roll which, next Monday, is going to show stand, respectively, "two-week-to-the-ways" Boston, what certain Boston fancies of high degree think about being a "non-political, independent, pro-league" these days.

As Mrs. Crandon explains: "I'm not a Republican, nor am I a Democrat. Poor Harding! Poor Coolidge! I spit them both. I'm an Independent and not so rabidly political as that. If you understand."

"That certain Boston women, my friends and I among them, feel so keenly about getting some sort of League of Nations really into the consideration of the country that we're willing even to give our picture in the paper, to show we mean it. And for some of us, that's going home."

NEXT MONDAY BIG DAY.

"Now here's where the sandwich man comes in. We don't believe that you ever get anything in the world by being polite and smiling in a line along the wall too long. That's why next Monday we're going to have a sandwich man, with nice clothing hats, all round and about them—they're inside, inside, you know, inside and down Boston Common, giving the sentiments of certain Boston women about the league."

"That's what for the 'sandwich' next Monday, that's all. And we're going to divide the city divisions into two, not political—and you just—women's plain logic, as we are given to our women's logic."

"But nothing in Boston—I'm a Canadian, you see, and therefore qualified to say—can have real credit with out having some connection with the Twentieth Century Club. That's why we are hiring the club rooms from 8 to 10 A. M. for a mother roll, when we'll have in the middle of the morning, and there will be many others to see every hour."

TEA FOR THE THIRTY

"A cup of tea at six will refresh the thirty. We're looking forward to that meeting, not as political wrangle, but as a chance put forward by Boston women to come and reason together."

The committee for Monday's Mother Roll of independent Women follows: Chairman, Mrs. L. R. G. Crandon; Mrs. H. Cabot, Jr.; Mrs. Crandon; Mrs. Blanche Hudson; Mrs. Lewis Jerome Johnson; Mrs. Edward G. Low; Frank P. Lusk; Mrs. Charles G. Loring; Professor and Mrs. Bliss Perry; Miss Edith H. May; Mrs.

DELEGATES SEE ART MUSEUM

Parent-Teacher Association to End Convention Here Tomorrow

The eleventh annual convention of the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association, which opened with the registration of the delegates at the Hotel Brattleboro, was continued today in the Lecture Hall of the Public Library. Mrs. Edward M. Barney presided.

The delegates later met at the Hotel Brattleboro and proceeded to the Art Museum where they were conducted through the Museum by Miss Lucy Whelan.

There will also be the reading of resolutions with Mrs. H. V. Neal acting as chairman.

The convention will close tomorrow afternoon at Parker street, Roxbury, at 8 P. M.

Wilson is Incompetent Says Minister

Woodrow Wilson was characterized as "one of the most disastrous examples of degenerate democracy in the history of the presidency," in a statement by the Rev. Abraham M. Ribicoff, pastor of the Church of the Disciples, Brooklyn.

Mr. Ribicoff, who has just returned from Europe, added: "To plunge into an agreement with the turbulent Europe, especially in a time of such a crisis, is not a Christian duty but an unwise and dangerous diplomatic blunder. Hindenburg would have been right."

It is tonight. There will be community singing under the direction of Alfred P. Bridge and educational motion pictures will also be shown. Tomorrow morning Mrs. Mason will preside at round table discussions in the Lecture Hall of the Public Library. There will also be the reading of resolutions with Mrs. H. V. Neal acting as chairman.

The convention will close tomorrow afternoon at Parker street, Roxbury, at 8 P. M.

Practise True Clothing Economy

By Availing Yourself of the Advantages Offered at the Joyce Stores

A prosperous business is built on confidence. Before confidence is secured a reputation must be established. We have done both. OUR FAIR AND SQUARE POLICY originated the day we opened our first little store thirty-one years ago and has been strictly adhered to every day since. Being well aware that the store that gives the BEST MERCHANDISE AND SERVICE AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE COST is sure to secure the confidence and patronage of the people, we have bent our best efforts to this end. OUR GREAT CHAIN OF STORES THROUGHOUT NEW ENGLAND is the result—in any of which your dollar today will buy MORE STYLE—MORE QUALITY—MORE GOOD CLOTHES—BETTER TAILORING—ON MORE EQUITABLE TERMS than you will find elsewhere. THE ROAD TO CLOTHING ECONOMY leads directly to any and all of THE JOYCE STORES.

ADVERTISING TO CO-OPERATE

Discuss Plans to Promote Better Business in New England at Conference

Greater confidence in business relations in the immediate future, trust in advertising and more co-operation between advertising clubs throughout New England, were advocated at the first annual New England advertising conference at the Cooper Hotel, Boston, today.

Today was devoted to discussing ways and means of promoting better business in New England through the medium of advertising. H. Wesley Curtis, member of the executive committee of the New England Association of Advertising Clubs, presided at this morning's session.

Speakers on the program today included Professor Daniel B. Black, advertising instructor at Harvard, Benjamin Nash of New York, vice-president of Consulting Management, Inc., Roland Hall of Boston, E. J. Williams of Boston, and William F. Jones of Boston.

Legitimate advertisers need have no fear of the campaign.

George C. Proctor, president of the Pilgrim Publicity Association, provided. He emphasized the need of New England people knowing New England products before the war.

Plans of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World were discussed by Roma Stewart, ad. club president of that organization. "It is planned to form four sections with one in each of the four New England States," she said. "A speaker's bureau will be formed to keep advertising clubs in each section of the country in touch with others."

John M. Liggett, president of the United Drug Company, pictured the business future in this country as one of great promise. "Any one who says the country is in a down-trodden state," he declared, "does not know the strength of America."

What is needed in business today is greater confidence. "I don't care whether we go into the League of Nations or not, it is a Rembrandt and we are the need of a protective tariff. We are now beginning to receive goods from Europe cheaper than we can buy them here. Unless we have a protective tariff business here will not be able to compete."

He traced the growth of the United Drug Company to a company that will this year do a business of $150,000,000, and attributed that growth largely to successful advertising policies. "Our success is due in part to the fact that we have no secrets," he declared.

"Any one can go through our factories and see how we do things. We have nothing to hide. We have succeeded only in the extent that we have gained the public confidence. Though many people look to the immediate future with alarm, I am optimistic. We shall continue our advertising campaign at the present rate. In fact, if business should begin to slip, all the more reason why we should advertise more."

PLEADS FOR TRUTH IN ADS.

A straw vote by about 300 of the delegates on the Presidential election, resulted in Senator Harding's favor. His vote was 250 to 30 for Governor Cox. There was a long cheer for Senator Harding.

Plans for truthfulness in advertising was made by Richard S. Lee, director of the National Advertising Vigilance Work, Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, at the dinner last night. He said that the national organization is conducting a nationwide drive against fraudulent advertising.

"However," he said, "about 97 per cent of all advertising is truthful. Only about 3 per cent is fraudulent and it is towards that small proportion that we are directing our efforts. The public has a right to protection. Good honest business is suffering from the frauds."

POINTS TO FOREIGN TRADE.

E. Frederick Collins, president of the Johnson Education Food Company, also said he was in favor of a note of optimism. He likened the policy of his company for the immediate future to an automobile and prophesied a bill. "We are going to continue in light," he declared, "so that if there should be a bill we will be the better able to cope with it."

"We are going ahead with plans to increase the size of our plant, because we look for good business. This country has made every hill whether in war or peace. We have materially increased our resources as a result of the war. There is a great demand for American goods abroad, and it will be our own fault if we do not go after the business."

MILLS CLOSED IN FALL RIVER

General Curtailment in Cotton Factories; Masses of Cuts; Wages 20 Per Cent

Fall River, Oct. 22.—The Central and Wampanoag Mills have closed their doors until November 1. More than one thousand operatives are employed in these two establishments. It will be idle during the rest of the week and next. The Parker Mill at Weymouth is also following the same program. The Aqueduct Printing, American, Granite, Laurel, Olin, and a lot of the furniture, the Weymouth and Stafford mills have closed their doors until next Monday. It was announced that the Central mills will be closed during the whole week of November 1. The employees of the Wampanoag Mills were reduced 20 per cent. The Parker Mill will be closed until next Monday. The Textile Council and the executive committee of the Manufacturers' Association are scheduled to meet Monday evening, November 1, to discuss the wage question for the six months beginning December 1.

More Boy Babies Than Girls in New York

By International Review
New York, Oct. 22.—The old theory that nature provides for boys in man power after a war by providing more boys than girls is being substantiated. The birth statistics in a recent dispatch from Paris, is not borne out here, according to statistics gathered at maternity hospitals of the city by authorities of the United Hospital Fund.
Paris figures show that during the year nearly six per cent of the babies born in the French capital were boys. It was stated that a similar condition followed the Napoleonic wars.
In New York figures for the current year show little variation from the accepted proportion of 105 boys to 100 girls. Records at sixteen maternity hospitals in New York, and Brooklyn show that 1920 figures are 104 boys to 100 girls.

PROPOSE NEW LEGION POST IN MANCHESTER

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 22.—Plans are under way for the establishment of a new American Legion Post in this city, to be known as Manchester Post, No. 78. The reason for a third post in this city is the large number of ex-service men here. One thousand men are all one headquarters can accommodate advantageously.
An application for a charter has been signed by 15 local ex-service men headed by Harry Cushman, and has been endorsed by the New Hampshire ex-service department. It is wanted to the national headquarters at Annapolis.

NAVY MAN'S LOVE NOTES IN COURT

Commander Charlton Admits He Wrote to Wife Being Sued for Divorce

Jersey City, Oct. 22.—The fact that I could take my wife into my arms, this is an exact copy of a letter I am alleged to have been written by Commander Alexander M. Charlton, U. S. Navy, to his wife, Mrs. Mabel Charlton, who is suing for divorce. The letter, dated at Longbury, Maine, and the wife Charlton is named as the respondent.
Charlton is a big, muscular man and was the object of much interest in the court room. He had written to Mrs. Charlton, "Sweetheart," is the way one of the letters read into the evidence begins. "How I wish I could be up to help you get the apartment furnished. It doesn't seem right that I should be able to help direct the way and talk about the arrangement of furniture. I suppose I will have to wait until we come to furnish up a bank in the city of Philadelphia next Fall. I wonder how that will work out. Whether you will be free to go to marry me when I will get the duty I want up there."

It appears that our determination to bring down prices by marking our clothes at rockbottom, regardless of our own margin of profit, has brought on some premature mark-down sales.

Even now we find our prices still five dollars less. It certainly is worth the public's while to buy from a clothier who is maker as well as retailer.

Shop the mark-downs and then come to Morse's and see how much more you get, whether you spend thirty dollars or sixty.

As usual, there is no risk on your part. If after a purchase you find cause for changing your mind, come back and get your money.

MUCH TOUTED CENTRE ELEVEN HARDLY MATCH FOR HARVARD

KENTUCKIANS NOT EXACTLY OF BIG LEAGUE CALIBRE

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

Centre College.
Is it a bubble or brick?
Will it vanish in the thin air when John Harvard swings his cleated toe, or will John drive to test its toughness again?

Nearly forty thousand persons, each one with a ticket in his possession, are seeking some amusement this afternoon at the annual football game between the Centre College Eleven and the Harvard University team. The Centre College Eleven, which is the largest and most complete of the college football teams in the country, will play a small portion of the full number which Saturday afternoon will be crowded in this contest.

The majority, it would seem, is looking for a game of football such as seldom is seen in the course of a season. But there is a minority, and many learned football students are numbered in this latter crowd, which believes Centre College has been enormously overrated, and that Harvard can win by far as favorable a score as Harvard chooses.

Harvard Has Big Advantage in Game

To the latter the problem tonight is so far as real football is concerned, appears much less an affair of reason than will be witnessed on a half dozen other fields. Harvard's advantage is the weight advantage Harvard possesses. Harvard's football team is composed of thoroughbred athletes, many of them engaged in the study of the Harvard rules of football, and many of them are of the opinion that the Harvard team is the best in the country. The Harvard team is the best in the country, and the Harvard team is the best in the country.

The fact that the Harvard team is the best in the country is a fact which is well known to all who are interested in football. The Harvard team is the best in the country, and the Harvard team is the best in the country.

Public Forgets What Others Did

The fact that the Harvard team is the best in the country is a fact which is well known to all who are interested in football. The Harvard team is the best in the country, and the Harvard team is the best in the country.

How Tomorrow's Gridiron Results Dope Out

Harvard to beat Centre.
Harvard to beat West Virginia.
Pittsburgh to beat Georgia Tech.
Army to beat Tufts.
Cornell to beat Colgate.
Princeton to beat Navy.
Penn State to beat Lebanon.
Pennsylvania to beat Virginia Military Inst.

Brown to beat Springfield.
Amherst to beat Union.
Williams to beat Trinity.
Lehigh to beat Washington & Jefferson.
Dartmouth-Croton a toss-up, with the Green's chances slightly favored.

It is called Big Three tonight, an interesting evening on the gridiron. The Harvard team is the best in the country, and the Harvard team is the best in the country.

Harvard Entertains Big Gathering
At New Haven and at Harvard tomorrow will be staged two attractions which, while less than the Harvard-Centre match, are nevertheless of great interest.

The first of these is the Harvard-Centre match, which is the largest and most complete of the college football teams in the country. The Harvard team is the best in the country, and the Harvard team is the best in the country.

Army Should Defeat Team From Tufts
The crowd of the Army this afternoon is the largest in the country, and the Army team is the best in the country.

The game will be a long one, and the Harvard team is the best in the country. The Harvard team is the best in the country, and the Harvard team is the best in the country.

Yale Strikes Tartar in Mountaineers
It may be out of the frying pan into the fire for the game of Yale tomorrow when they attack West Virginia.

"Ask yourself about it!"

Thousands of smokers here in Boston are smoking the Ricoro, corona size, cigar. Why?

—Is it the price that has won them?

—Is it the quality?

—Or is it the combination of quality and price—11c for a fine imported Porto Rican cigar—that has given, Ricoro, corona size, the city's vote?

Isn't it probable that the cigar which has pleased so many thousands of smokers will please you too? And in any event—isn't it worth trying?

Remember—Ricoro, corona size, is a finest-quality cigar imported from Porto Rico duty free—which fact explains its extremely moderate price.

"I demand for myself absolute comfort in shoes which are at the same time smart looking, well fitting and long wearing and I can't expect any other man to demand less."

Edw. O. Emerson

NEVER before in the history of the shoe business has my policy of stamping the actual retail price of my store shoes on the soles at the factory been such a protection to the buying public as it is today.

Never before has it been so important for the buying public to know just what a good shoe is really worth.

When you buy a pair of shoes in my store you are absolutely protected against inflated prices or inferior quality because every shoe is stamped with my trade-mark and the actual retail price based on the net costs of manufacture in my own factories at Rockland, Mass.

You are always sure of getting your money's worth in Emerson shoes. Come in and let us show you our wide variety of new fall styles. There is a style for every taste at a price for every purse.

When a Girl Marries To the Port of Heart's Desire

Story of the Interesting Happenings in Life of Young Married Couple

By Ann Lisle

When Present Girl Marries a Big Popular success.

"I NEVER knew you could be so different," said Ann Lisle, as she sat in the front porch of her home, looking out over the place where she had spent her childhood. "You were always so happy and contented, and now you are so serious and thoughtful."

"If Jim didn't come along, I wouldn't be so different," she said. "I was just a happy-go-lucky girl, but now I am a serious young woman."

"I am glad to hear that," said Ann Lisle. "I hope you are happy and contented now."

"I am," she said. "I am very happy and contented now. I have found the man of my dreams."

"I am glad to hear that," said Ann Lisle. "I hope you are happy and contented now."

"I am," she said. "I am very happy and contented now. I have found the man of my dreams."

The Mysterious Eel

ALL scientific investigations have failed to discover the source of the origin of eels, and experts confess that no spawning eel has ever been seen. The theory is that eels vanish into the sea at intervals to breed.

ABOUT OUR GOOD FRIEND DODD

Copyright, 1920, by The Lodge Syndicate

DODD
VARIATION—Dodson.
RACIAL ORIGIN—Anglo-Saxon.
SOURCE—A given name.

THIS family name of Dodd and Dodson, which sometimes is met with to do with those of Dobbs and Dobson. They don't sound a bit aristocratic, as though they traced back to some noble house, but they are, of course, accomplished by the proper of the Conqueror. As a matter of fact, they don't trace back to him. They trace back to him, into old Anglo-Saxon history, when there was a very common given name of "Doda" or "Dodd."

As a given name it has long since disappeared, but it had not disappeared among the common people during the period of Norman domination, nor even in the subsequent period of the final amalgamation of Norman and Anglo-Saxon blood.

The Adventures of Ann

By Hal Coffman

CHAPTER XXXII.

HARWOOD was so astonished at the sudden action of the mysterious woman in throwing the wine in the face and then menacing him with the big silver candlestick that he sat still in fear, his arms outstretched wide with fear and the wine dripping from his face and hair.

This was a new experience for him. He had never seen anyone so bold and daring. He had never seen anyone so beautiful and so mysterious. He had never seen anyone so daring and so bold.

Making Love, Worth While

IT'S UP TO THE MAN AND THE GIRL, TOO

Advice to the Lovelorn

By Beatrice Fairfax

IN Love with a Sailor

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

About two weeks ago I got an introduction to a sailor through a friend. Several days after the sailor wrote and asked if he could have the name of the girl who had introduced him to him. I told him that I had introduced him to her. I told him that I had introduced him to her.

A Violation of Property

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

NO, young man and a girl to fly in the face of practical common sense and good taste. The world has tested and proven its law against having young folks go wandering like this. It is a violation of property. It is a violation of property.

—NELL BRINKLEY

Easy Forgotten

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl sixteen years and was married to a man five years ago. I am now a single girl. I am now a single girl. I am now a single girl.

What Johnny Meant

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"Next boy," exclaimed the teacher, "can you give me a simile to describe the word 'happy'?" "Yes, miss," responded Johnny. "I can give you a simile to describe the word 'happy'."

Contentment Is Happiness

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Alaskan Sled Dogs Make Journey to the United States by Airplane

OIL IN KENTUCKY!—The old bourbon State now has an oil well. Picture shows it on fire. Oil came with a rush and the dollar was killed. Haven't heard of gasoline prices dropping as the result of these new wells. Maybe it will some day. Mayne.

GOLFING ACTORS—Al Jensen and Donald Brian (at left of trophy) are members of the committee in charge of a tournament for actors at Elmhurst, near Chicago.

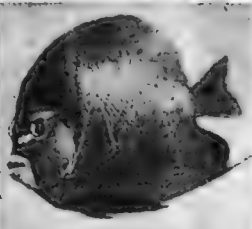

JOINS MOVIELAND—Sir Gilbert Parker, author of "The Right of Way," has arrived on the Pacific Coast to run movie plays. He has the silent drama.

SUCCESS!—William Murphy of Chicago started as a newsboy in Chicago and is still at it. Now he has been nominated by the Democratic party for congressman-at-large from Illinois. He is wealthy.

OLD BUT ENTHUSIASTIC—This gentleman was one of a number of old folks entertained by theatrical girls at "Frisco" recently. He applauded vociferously, hence the award.

EXTRA!—Collateral at sea. This fish used to be shaped like a piratical. It collided with a submarine thing. Called French Angel Face.

JINGO!—Looks like a birthday party but it isn't. The new Gustavus Minister, Julius Blund, and his interesting family arrive at Washington, D. C. Change the record.

COMING—For hat season next month. New model. Off the face. Squirrel brim. Bands gray dresden crown with silver ornaments. Neat. Clever. Española.

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY—Captain Mary L. Walsh of the American entry Espanola in the International Fishermen's race off Halifax, Oct. 30.

HEY, KID!—Edward Harvey, plump youngster of 12, is the youngest student who ever entered Columbia University. He made high school at eight. Speaks many languages.

LUCKY DOGS—The crack of the long whip will not send these Alaskan sled dogs off across the ice fields this winter. They are taking up their residence at Minnola, L. I., having been brought back by the Army Alaskaniers. The pilots are Lieutenants Nelson and Crumrine.

TWO THOROUGHBREDS—Miss Marie G. Darn of Brookline is one of the most enthusiastic horsewomen in Greater Boston society. An early morning ride these autumn days helps prepare one for the strenuous social season which starts soon. The horse appears to be interested in the camera.

BE-BE-BE!—Emma Grand of Sutton went swimming through a hole in the ice every day last winter. She declares she will start again when the ice season arrives.

OLD GLORY—A remarkable fresh picture in which the pipette on the pond blind to form a good likeness of the American flag. George Manion of Boston is awarded Five Dollars for this interesting photograph.

COPS AFTER RAISE—Petitions containing 125,000 names were presented to Mayor Rolfe of San Francisco, appealing for a $50 a month raise in pay for policemen. This is the largest petition ever presented for an amendment to the city charter. It filled a patrol wagon.

SOCIETY GIRL DANCES—Miss Mary Schütz gives a gypsy beggar dance at a garden fête (ballet) at Berkeley, Cal. The picture shows Miss Schütz in action.

THE BUS—One of Broadway's young favorites has started a new fad. She comes to work in a unique little buckboard which she declares is better in heavy traffic than a big machine. Rides easy enough on Fifth avenue, but wonder how long she'd stick to her seat on a rough country road?

FANNY BRICE'S 'SONA' VOTER

'Follies' Star Learns It Was Straw Ballot; Becomes
Regular Bostonian
By FRED A. McILBAAC.

"Who are you going to vote for?"
I asked that tiny creature of Fanny Brice, the comic star of the Follies.
"For Harding," said Miss Brice.
"I've voted."
"Sure, I voted yesterday. Somebody came around with a paper and I put my name down for Harding. Is there any more to it?"
I looked to see if the actress were hiding, but she was artless. For-thrightly she wanted to know yet she had done something unusual in voting for President, a foreigner, and before election day. But she caught my hesitating and said that something was wrong.
"What was that thing I voted out was somebody kidding me?"
"Well, it's all right, but I wouldn't be bothered with politics. They don't mean a thing to me. I've been here for a long time, and I don't care who wins or loses. I don't care who's in the White house. I'll stay here and work for my living. I'll never leave this city."
"Sure, go as far as you like. Did you hear how my baby stopped an special train on the way over from
New York?"
"No."
"Well, the nurse got out on the platform with the baby in her arms and she was crying. The train stopped and she was crying. I saw her and I was crying. I was crying for her. I was crying for her. I was crying for her."
"You have the baby here with you?"
"Sure, right across the street at the hotel. Every morning I carry the baby all over Boston.
I carry him to the office, to the club, to the hotel, to the house.
I carry him everywhere. I carry
him everywhere. I carry him everywhere. I carry him everywhere. I carry him everywhere."
"You carry the baby all over Boston?"
"Yes, I do. I carry him everywhere.
I carry him everywhere. I carry
him everywhere. I carry him
everywhere. I carry him everywhere. I carry him everywhere."
"You carry the baby all over Boston?"
"Yes, I do. I carry him everywhere.
I carry him everywhere. I carry
him everywhere. I carry him
everywhere. I carry him everywhere. I carry him everywhere."

Lillian Gish a 'Bernhardt'

LILLIAN GISH.

Popular Comedienne in Ziegfeld 'Follies'

GISH, Boston, whose triumph in the "Jest" and "Hundred Thirteen" has made her a most amusing and general favorite in the art of Lillian Gish, the film star, is now in "The Follies" and does not hesitate to compare her to Duse and Bernhardt.
When a man who knows great acting, as Barrymore does, finds it worth his while to write a letter as the following, it is certainly deserving of notice.
"New York, Oct. 15, 1920.
"My dear Mr. Griffith: I have for the second time seen your picture Any personal praise of yourself or your picture regarding the picture would naturally consider redundant and a little like carrying coals to Newcastle. Anyway, I imagine you are so used to it that it would bore you to death.
"I have not the honor of knowing
Miss Gish personally, and I am afraid that any expression of feeling addressed to her is not only considerably impertinent. I merely wish to tell you that her performance in "The Follies" seems to me to be the most perfectly exquisite and poignant of anything that I have ever seen in my life.
"I remember seeing her in this city many years ago when I imagine she must have been about the age of the present
Bernhardt—and for sheer technical brilliance and great emotional power, she was a perfect model.
"I am not in the habit of writing the letters of this character and it is only a very rare experience that I could compel.
"I wonder if you would be good enough to thank Miss Gish from all of us who are trying to do the best we can in the theatre.
"Yours very sincerely,
(Signed) JOHN BARRYMORE."
